

Hello, you have reached the 192 FW Emergency Hotline.

Due to the lack of appropriations, the 192d FW is following guidance from OSD and NGB for operations during a government shutdown. All AGR personnel should continue in a normal duty status. Military technicians should report to work on Tuesday, 1 October 2013 in accordance with their normal duty schedules. Technician briefings will be performed at the 149 FS main briefing room at 0800 and 1400 to inform each member of their status: excepted or non-excepted from furlough.

Military technicians scheduled to be off Tuesday, 1 October 2013 must report to work Wednesday October 2 IAW your normal duty hours. Plan to meet at the 149 FS main briefing room (Bldg 790/Hangar 180, second floor) at 0800 or 1400. You will be given official notification of your excepted or non-excepted status and be directed according to the above guidance.

Non excepted military technicians will be temporarily furloughed, effective 1 October 2013, until an appropriation is in place. You will receive 4 hours pay credit to perform an orderly shutdown of activity IAW your supervisor's direction. You will be notified to return to work as soon as the 192d FW receives guidance that the furlough is lifted.

Excepted Technicians will continue to perform duty IAW their schedule. All paid leave is cancelled. If you cannot report to work because of an emergency during this furlough period, you will be placed in a furlough status until such time as you can report to work.

The 192d FW Website and the FW hot line will be updated with the latest information.
